President Grant in New York—The Boutwell-Pleasonton Difficulty—Perjury Case—Mining—The Horse Plague—Cholera Infantum—The Irish and the Orangemen.

NEW YORK, July 7, 1871.

THE PRESIDENT IN WASHINGTON.

The Tribune correspondent telegraphed from Washington last evening that the President had returned to the city this evening. But his coming not having been announced, his arrival was not known except to a few officers, who are in state. There was considerable excitement over it, and they are making all sorts of conjectures as to the meaning of this unexpected coming.

BOUTWELL AND PLEASONTON.

It has leaked out that another source of difference between Secretary Boutwell and Commissioner Pleasonton has been discovered in Baltimore, and that the Secretary in the exercise of the powers which he claims, has sent Supervisor Paisley, of Virginia, to make an investigation. It is also reported that the Commissioner was opposed to the whole investigation, and declined to order the Supervisor of the Maryland district to give Mr. Paisley the needed facilities. It is conjectured that the President's visit has something to do with the quarrel, and developments in that direction are looked for.

THE PERJURY CASE.

An indictment for perjury against a naval officer named Laflin in this port has been found by the grand jury in Herkine county, and the trial is set down for next week. The circumstances of the case are understood to be these: Some time ago a brother of the naval officer entrusted to the latter a bond for safe-keeping. This, it is said, was folded up and placed in an envelope in the naval officers' desk. One day when sending off official documents the naval officer accidentally slipped one of them into the envelope containing the bond, and the official documents were posted together. The bond could not be traced for a long time, but was afterwards discovered in the possession of a tailor in Herkimer. The owner of the bond, when he heard of this, brought suit against the tailor for its recovery, and the present charge of perjury against the naval officer grows out of evidence given in the case. The friends of the latter declare that the prosecution is malicious, and say that he desires a full investigation. A prominent and impartial officer of the court also telegraphs to the effect that the announcement of an indictment does Laflin a wicked injustice.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Cholera infantum is prevailing to a great extent in Brooklyn. The hot weather has developed a new form of cholera, resembling dysentery and yellow fever in its symptoms. THE IRISH AND THE ORANGEMEN.

The Convention of Irish Societies held a secret meeting this evening, to consider what action they should take in regard to the anticipated Orange procession on the twelfth inst. It is expected that about one month will be exhausted by this trip. As each of the Editors will probably write up the voyage for his paper, the public will probably get a large amount of valuable information in regard to the resources of this important section of our continent.

TEXAS CATTLE TRADE.

The Abeline (Kansas) Chronicle gives the following as the most accurate figures of the cattle trade this season: There are now near the line of the Kansas Pacific railroad 125,000 head passed the Red river station; to be driven on that line, 100,000; for the Atchison, Topeka and Santi Fe Railroad, 50,000 for the Missouri River, Fort Scott and Gulf railroad, 75,000; for the Union Pacific, 50,000; to be wintered in Kansas and Colorado; 50,000; Missouri, Kansas and Texas, 50,000. This is lower than all previous estimates, though it is larger than any previous year.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

The committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to consider the claims on our citizens of the Vincennes and Cairo Railroad reported to-day that there is a probability of this road making an equitable arrangement with the Ohio and Mississippi road for an exchange of traffic, but unless this can be made sure, by binding acts of the two corporations, and not absorbed in some great trunk line that will disseminate against Cincinnati, they would not recommend aid. The report recommended the appointment of a committee of five to put the matter before the citizens, with a view to such action as may be necessary to secure and make permanent its management for the interests of Cincinnati commerce.

THE FOURTH IN ENGLAND.

American Knights and English Earls—Talbot and the Templars—The Stars and Stripes Wave Over Alton Towers—Grand Reception of American Pilgrims, &c., &c.

[Special to the New York World.]

LONDON, July 4.—To-day has witnessed a sight unexampled heretofore in England.

The American Knight Templars from Pittsburgh, who are now making a grand excursion through Europe to the Holy Land were welcomed to-day at Alton Towers, one of the noblest and most beautiful baronial homes of England, by its owner, the premier earl of England, Talbot, Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot and by his wife.

As the pilgrims approached the stately mansion they were delighted by a spectacle of the American flag floating proudly side by side with the banner of the ancient house of Talbot over the towers of Alton. They were first marshaled through the noble vestibule, filled with portraits and trophies of the Talbots through five centuries of English history, into the family chapel. In this spacious and beautiful chapel, designed for Catholic worship by the last Catholic earl, but now arranged in harmony with the requirements of the Protestant worship, the pilgrims heard the divine service performed by the Earl's chaplain, who united the names of the Queen of Great Britain and the President of the United States in his prayer for the first time probably on English soil.

After divine service was over the pilgrims were shown through the famous and spacious gardens of Alton Towers, the first of their kind in England. They were particularly enchanted with incomparable show there made of American plants, with the profusion of azaleas and rhododenerons in the finest possible condition.

The magnificent hedges of box and the quaint Dutch gardens excited also their admiration. After viewing the Home Park they were received by the Earl and Countess of Shrewsbury in the grand family dining-hall, hung with portraits, arms, flags and pennons.

The Earl of Shrewsbury, in a most cordial speech, bade them welcome to England and to Alton Towers. Sir Knight W. F. Tudor, of New Orleans, made an appropriate response for the pilgrims to the Earl's address. They were then escorted by the chaplain through the picture gallery, the noble library, and the state apartments of the castle, after which they joined the Countess of Shrewsbury and witnessed the ceremony of the awarding of prizes by her Ladyship at a grand flower show of the county. P. G.

John Charles Chetwynd-Talbot, fifteenth Earl of Shrewsbury and fourth Earl Talbot in the peerage of Great Britain, Earl of Waterford in the peerage of Ireland, Viscount Talbot, Viscount Ingestre, and Hereditary Lord High Steward of Ireland, was born in 1830. He distinguished himself as Viscount Ingestre, both in and out of Parliament, very early in life, by his devotion to the interests of the laboring classes, and by his zeal in many works of practical philanthropy. In 1819 died Bernard Talbot, thirteenth Earl of Shrewsbury, of the direct line of the dreadful lord," the terror of France of whom Shakespeare tells us that:

"Valiant Talbot, above human thought,
Enacted wonders with his sword and lance.
Hundreds he sent to hell, and none durst stand him,
Here, there, and everywhere, enraged he stood!
The French exclaimed—the devil was in arms.
All the whole army stood agazed on him:
His soldiers, spying his undaunted spirit:
'A Talbot! A Talbot!' cried out amain,
And rushed into the bowels of the battle."

"Earl Bernard died at Rome, where two of his sisters had married, the one the Prince Borghese, and the other the Prince Doria-Pamfili. These Talbots were all Catholics, and as the Earldom of Shrewsbury stands at the head of that order in the peerage of England, it was a sore trial to the Catholics of Great Britain when the ancient title, with the vast estates of the elder branch, passed to the Protestant Earl Talbot, the father of the present nobleman, who has just given so cordial an illustration of his good will and courtesy to the American people.

The Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot has two seats, Ingestre and Alton Towers, in Staffordshire. The latter, though surrounded at no great distance with some of the noblest and most beautiful of the aristocratic homes of England, need fear no comparison with any of them in the loveliness of its grounds and the stateliness of its grand apartments. Among the trophies which line its magnificent hall stands conspicuous an equestrian statue of the great Talbot of Shakspeare, clad in the armor worn by him at the battle of Agincourt, and holding in its mailed hand the sword which smote so fearfully upon the heart of France.

The following is a correct list of the American Templars who enjoyed the hospitalities of this noble residence: Messrs. R. Gardner, W. F. Tudor, J. J. McIlvar, Dr. Milligan, Hon. H. W. Barney, M. C., Messrs. S. G. T. Morsell, James G. Bowen, J. C. W. Bailey, C. S. P. Boyce, J. J. Sprenger, J. J. Fisher, D. A. Cooke, T. J. Clepper, Edward Coates, J. C. Hutchins, W. S. McGee, M. Riley, W. H. Thompson, Joseph F. Graham, Augustus Haim, Messrs. Jacob Ritter, O. Godfray, A. Godfray, Jas. Dixon, Homer Laughlin, Wm. Peak, John Heath, Charles W. Parker, Wm. H. Devore, James A. Sholes, E. M. Jenkins, R. H. Taylor, Thomas Palmer, William Hasson, J. M. Cunning, C. H. Sheppard, Henry Church, Dr. Thomas L. Neale, W. A. Short, W. H. Slack, William Hamilton, D. J. L. Acomb, H. D. Reymer, A. M. Rambo.

The Funeral of "Pet" Halsted.

There are people in Newark who, if they were afforded a good opportunity, would hang George Botts, the murderer of "Pet" Halsted, without judge or jury. Personally "Pet" Halsted was a favorite wherever he was known, and the melancholy circumstances surrounding his tragic death have filled many of the first families of Newark with deepest grief. Yesterday afternoon the funeral of the murdered man took place from his late residence, 1120 Broad street, Newark. It was attended by hundreds of people; among them many of the most prominent citizens of New Jersey. The body was encased in a half casket, covered with black cloth, and bearing silver handles. A silver plate on the coffin bore the following inscription:

Oliver Spencer Halsted, Jr.
"Pet."

The religious services were conducted by the Rev. Joseph H. Smith, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, who read a portion of the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians, containing the following passages:

"And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?"

"Be not deceived; evil communications corrupt good manners."

"Awake to righteousness and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God. I speak this to your shame."

"And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain."

At the conclusion of the religious services the coffin was placed in the main hall of the building, after which the immense concourse of people formed in procession and passed by the casket in which the face of the deceased was exposed. The remains were then taken to Elizabeth, and buried in the family plot in the cemetery of the First Presbyterian Church of that place. The pall-bearers were General Theodore Runyon, Judge Frederick H. Teese, United States Commissioner John Whitehead, Major C. K. Pangborn, Colonel Swords, and Dr. Wm. Conover. Mrs. Halsted, the widow, and the daughters and sons of the deceased, were all present, and were bowed down with almost uncontrollable grief. Among the others who were present were Hon. Courtlandt Parker, Hon. James W. Wall, ex-Chancellor Halsted, Abraham Halsted, and Geo. B. Halsted, the father and brothers of "Pet."

Yesterday morning, Mrs. Mary E. Wilson, in whose presence Mr. Halsted was shot, was released on bail, to appear as a witness against Botts at the next term of the court, when his trial will be called on. Her father became her bondsman in $2,000, after which she was taken to his residence, where she will remain, she having promised to reform. Botts has not yet succeeded in obtaining counsel, and it is quite likely that he will be obliged to secure the services of some New York lawyer. He is still hopeful of an acquittal, but the general impression in Newark is that he will be hanged.

Bank Reports Delayed.

THE KU KLUX.

More Trouble for Bowen.

FOREIGN PASSPORTS.

WASHINGTON, July 7, 1871.

BANK REPORTS.

A disposition exists on the part of a few National Banking Associations to delay sending the reports of their respective banks until the last moment, notwithstanding that the Controller of Currency has requested them by telegraph to forward their reports immediately. It may, therefore, be necessary to close the books and make an official announcement of the condition of the National Banks without embracing therein the reports of the delinquents above alluded to.

KU KLUX.

The Ku Klux investigation Committee today examined Jas. H. Speed, of Alabama, ex-Confederate officer, and now a regent of the State University and Superintendent of Education in Perry county. He testified that the section of Alabama in which he resided was quiet and peaceable until last winter, when bands of armed and disguised men began to commit outrages of various kinds.

This state of affairs continued for awhile, but recently, so far as the witness knows, things have been quiet throughout the State. The result of the occurrences above referred to had been to excite a general terror among the colored people and make them afraid to vote. In regard to the education of the negroes he said that the only opposition to it came from the lower classes of the white, former owners of slaves being strongly in favor of a general and important education. The committee also examined Alfred Richardson, (colored,) resident of Clark county, Georgia, and formerly a member of the Legislature. He testified that in January last a band of disguised men, whom he believed to be Ku Klux, came to his house, fired at and wounded him. He returned the fire wounding one of his assailants, whereupon they retired. He knew no cause for the attack. Whipping and similar outrages still continue in that vicinity, and have created such terror that many negroes living in isolated places have broken up their homes, and gone for safety to towns where they have nothing to do and suffer distress.

THE WEATHER.

The barometer has fallen somewhat on the Pacific coast, and still more at the Rocky mountain stations. An area of low pressure is probably developing in Minnesota, where heavy rains are now reported. The low barometer of Thursday evening over Lake Huron has moved eastward, and is now central over the bay of Fundy. There was light rain during the night from New York eastward, where partially cloudy and clear weather today prevailed, with fresh westerly winds increasing to brisk at New York City and Rochester. The barometer continues highest in Florida but is lower than on Thursday evening. Brisk southwesterly winds have continued in the Southern States. Brisk easterly winds have prevailed at Key West during the day, fresh west and northwest winds prevailed from Tennessee to the Lakes.

Probabilities.—Partially cloudy and pleasant weather are probable for Saturday in the middle and eastern States. The disturbances west of Mississippi will probably extend to Lake Huron by Saturday, but dangerous winds are not apprehended for any great extent of country. A severe local storm is probable for south Iowa to-night. Southerly winds will probably, with threatening weather extend over Alabama and Georgia by Saturday noon.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The Civil Service Commission has taken no positive action of any kind as yet, but is employed in investigating the practical working of the various department bureaus of the Government. From the known views of the members of the Commission, it may be safely predicted that the tenure of office of Government employes will not be arbitrarily fixed, since the appointments once made, the responsibility of each officer would be thrown from its chief into the hands of the clerks, who could not be made accountable except in extraordinary instances. The principal question which demands the attention of the Commissioners, although it may not have arisen in the precise form, is: How shall the power or motive to remove one person for no reason but to create a place for another be taken away? With this problem solved, it is generally believed the tenure of office will be regulated by the demand of efficient service. What shall be done with the thirty thousand postmasters, is one of the practical questions now under examination.

EUROPEAN PASSPORTS.

The United States Minister at Brussels, on the 23d ult., reported to the Department of State that much inconvenience is just now being experienced by Americans entering France and Belgium. Passports, with the visa of the Belgian Consul, are required of all persons entering Belgium from France or England, though none are required of those from the East. All American passports, except those issued at the United States Legation at Brussels are required to have the American Consuls visa before the French Consul will visa them. Ladies traveling alone without passports are sent back from the French frontier, and a wife accompanying her husband is not allowed to pass unless she is named in the passport or has some means of satisfying an officer that she is a wife.

PARIS MORTALITY.

Dr. W. E. Johnson, the well known American physician in Paris, states that the reports of mortality in that city have been much exaggerated. The sanitary condition of Paris is satisfactory and no epidemic prevails. Statistics show the city more healthy than London in proportion to the population, and the death rate is not as great as at the same time last year.

INTERNAL REVENUE TROUBLES.

Letters received at the Internal Revenue Office from Supervisors Foulke and King report that great difficulty is experienced in collecting revenue in the districts of Arizona and Dakota, by reason of the hostility of the Indians in those territories rendering travel insecure. In Dakota, the steamer Far West, plying on the Missouri River, was attacked by Indians a few days ago and riddled by bullets.

CATTLE DISEASE.

In order to prevent the introduction into the United States of the cattle disease, know as the hoof and mouth disease, now previlent in Chili and Argentine Republics, orders have been issued that no cattle or hides be allowed to enter United States ports from those countries unless accompanied by an invoice having the consul's certificates that he is satisfied that the importation is free from disease.

DREADFUL CATASTROPHE.

A dreadful catastrophe is reported from the State of Soacatcas, Mexico. In the Guebadvilla silver mine, on one of the three great veins in that famous region, a fire has occurred by which over one hundred miners were suffocated. The machinery and equipment of Mexican miners are quite primitive, but fatal accidents from fires are not common there, nevertheless.

COTTON.

Private dispatches from Washington assert that the returns received at the Agricultural Department show a decreased productive capacity in the growth of cotton of one million and a half acres and a falling off of the crop as compared with last year, of twenty-three per cent.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

The Civil Service Commission to-day continued the consideration of subjects introduced previous to the sessions, especially that of open competitive examinations in regard to which the Commissioners are making extended inquiries as to how well the system works where it has been adopted.

THE PRESIDENT.

The President is expected to reach Washington on Monday evening next and return to Long Branch on Tuesday. He soon thereafter visits Ohio and other parts of the West, and on the 10th of August will proceed to California. Dr. Norris, of the army, and others will accompany him.

THE CROPS.

On special inquiry at the Department of Agriculture to-day, it was officially ascertained that there has been no analysis of cotton and other reports for July, not more than three-fourths of them having been received, and none from Texas and other distant States.

POOR BOWEN.

An unauthenticated report prevails that New York officers are here awaiting Bowen's release, when it is said he will be again arrested upon a requisition of Governor Hoffman, to answer the charge of mutilating the court records of that State.

COASTING VESSELS.

The Surveyor of Customs of St. Joseph, Missouri, has been authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury to issue enrollment licenses to vessels engaged in the coasting trade on the Missouri rivers.

DIED.

Captain John Nye, a brother of Senator Nye, of Nevada, died in Washington to-day, after an illness of a fortnight.

RETURNED.

Postmaster General Cresswell returned today from a visit to Maryland.

CONCORD, N. H.

Legislative.

CONCORD, July 7.—The vote in the Senate on the amendments to the acts for a re-districting of the city of Manchester stood six and six. Senator Smith took occasion, in a few remarks, to define his connection with the bill. Its present lines were represented as unjust, depriving many of their rights, and he was assured it was not to be considered a party question. He did not deem the bill introduced into the Senate as embodying the evils existing, as well as the amendments offered, and he gave the amendment his support as being geographically right, imposing no burdens, and fair to both parties; so he voted with the Republicans.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Joseph Wood, a deck hand on the steamboat May Lowry, was drowned at the wharf at Yankton, D. T., Thursday night.

—At Hyannis, Massachusetts, the Universalist Church was struck by lightning yesterday morning and entirely consumed by fire. Loss $20,000; no insurance.

—At Boston, Cyrus Wakefield has given one hundred thousand dollars to Harvard College for the erection of a recitation hall, with dormitories, to be called Wakefield Hall.

—Prof. Coe, who made a balloon ascension at Oswego, N. Y., on the 4th of July, has just been heard from by telegraph from Irish Creek, Ontario. He landed in personal safety ninety miles beyond the St. Lawrence river, but the balloon is a total wreck.

—At Johnstown, Pa., Hon. D. J. Morrell was thrown from a carriage on Thursday evening, near that place, and very severely injured. His skull was fractured and his back sprained. The physicians think he will recover if no internal injuries have been received, but the accident entails long confinement.

—At Little Rock, Ark., W. B. Llewellyn, a travelling agent of the Hot House of Simpson & Co., New York, committed suicide at Lone Oak, Prairie county, on Thursday, by taking an overdose of morphine. He left an affectionate letter to his wife at Jackson, Tenn. Financial embarassments appear to have been the cause. He had no money on his person. He was buried by the citizens.

HUDSON, N. Y.

Straw Paper Manufacturers' Convention.

HUDSON, July 7.—The straw paper manufacturers of this county held a Convention at Chatham village yesterday, at which nearly every mill was represented. After fully discussing the matter, it was unanimously resolved, in view of the present high price of straw and low price of paper, to run the mills only one half of the time for the coming year, dating from the first of August next.

GENERALITIES.

ROBERT HOUDIN the great conjuror is dead.

THE New York World calls the Pennsylvania Railroad a bankrupt corporation.

TILTON has determined that, as far as he is concerned, he much prefers to believe there is no hell.

BARON VON SCHLOEZER, formerly Charge d'Affairs at Mexico, will, it is said, be the new Minister of the German Empire at Washington.

THE Louisville Courierjournal says: Brownlow is going to Maine to spend the summer. What the dickens is the reason he can't stay at home and go on with his dying.

NEW HAVEN had what is well called a peculiar gathering one night last week, being a widow's party, there being assembled a dozen resident widows to welcome back two likewise bereaved from Pennsylvania, companions of their youth.

A CHILD was born at Manchester, Vt., on Tuesday, which weighed only two ounces, but was perfectly formed, and hopes are entertained of its living. Its face can be almost covered with an old-fashioned cent, and a lady's finger ring can be slipped on the arm.

THANBYAH, a young gentleman from Burmah, India, was graduated at the Rochester University on Wednesday of last week, and delivered an oration on "The Contest for Commercial Supremacy in Asia," which is spoken of as fully up to the average of college productions.

IT IS said that Mr. Sims Reeves, the famous London tenor, is longing for the free air of America. He longs so much that it is thought he will surely come over, especially as he has signed a contract binding him to sing 110 nights in America, for which he is to have $100,000.

THE Detroit Free Press of the 4th says: "Yesterday James Wallace, engineer at the Detroit Mills, corner of Michigan avenue and First street, died suddenly from the effects of drinking one bottle of pop. He had become very much heated and being excessively thirsty, drank the entire contents of the bottle at once. He was seized with spasms, and for half an hour suffered intense agony, when death relieved him."

THE Bedford (Va.) Sentinel says: We learn that, for several years, a Mormon missionary has been sent every summer to this region. A few weeks ago four families emigrated to Utah, and it is rumored that one from Bedford will soon follow. These families were induced to emigrate by the prophecy of one Elder E. W. East, who, writing to some of them, says: "There will be distressing times in this nation before the close of 1872. Yes, worse than that witnessed in the late civil war."

MR. EBENEZER BUSTARD, a rich grocery merchant in Louisville, is selling out all his property in that city preliminary to removing to Ireland, where, by the death of an elder brother, he has fallen heir to an estate of 35,000 acres in Donegan county, valued at $3,500,000. Mr. Bustard arrived in Louisville from Ireland in 1839, with a capital of $10,000, which has since increased to $1,000,000. A warehouse he erected on Main street, in Louisville, in 1849, at a cost of $43,000, was sold last week for $44,250.

SPECTACLES, according to Once a Week, are not such a recent invention as might be thought. Although they did not come into use in Europe until about the year 1300, they are, it is stated, of unfathomable antiquity in China, being made, it is true, not of glass, but of rock crystal. The Esquimaux also, although ignorant of the manufacture of glass or even of pottery, and, therefore, not able to construct a lens, have devised an instrument of wood and bone, with a narrow slit, which assists the visual powers of the eyes.

THE Philadelphia Ledger says:

Baltimoreans are very proud of their growing city, which is all very proper, and if they would be a little less jealous of the enterprise of our Pennsylvania Road, which seems to be exciting the envy of the whole country, it would count much more to their dignity. As to the Baltimore and Ohio road, it is one of the most efficiently managed in the whole country, but the Pennsylvania Railroad is, in the boldness and extent of its enterprises, the wonder and admiration of the whole country.

A HUGE seal was lately captured at Burlington New Jersey. For a week or ten days previous to the seal being captured, the shad in the river almost disappeared. The fishermen caught so few that fishing proved to be a losing business, and the price of the few shad went up to a high figure. All this time the seal was swimming to and fro in the river, no doubt doing his share at shad fishing. To keep clear of him the shad must have been driven away from their accustomed tracks, and hence out of the reach of the fishermen. But the very day after the capture of their enemy they returned to their old haunts, when the fishermen took them in large numbers, at once giving abundance and low prices.

AMONG the dismal wretches whom the Commune of Paris fostered, one named Joseph, whom the Paris papers designate as an "agreeable bandit," is about the dismallest. Under the Commune, Joseph, who was a believer in regicide, demanded and obtained from that body authority to raise a company of assassins, for the purpose of killing off all Emperors, Kings, heirs, collateral branches, &c. Joseph had no opportunity to put his ferocious plan into execution, as no Kings or Emperors put themselves in his way, but on the 8th inst., he was captured by the French police in a miserable quarter of Paris, called the Island of Monkeys, where he had taken refuge in the house of a rag-picker, a relative, from the keen pursuit of the fugitive Communists.

Startling Accident.

Mr. A. J. Crozier, of Oswego, who has invented several valuable mechanical contrivances, recently attempted to use the force of gravity as a motor, and with the following result: The machine was working on trial at the carpenter shop of Mr. John Harsha; the weight by which it was driven was about two and a half tons raised thirty feet from the ground, and the motion was to be controlled by a brake. The machine started well, but the brakeman allowed too much motion, and then attempted suddenly to check it. The belt connecting the power pully and the driving pulley snapped, and presently the velocity of the wheels became frightful; they were making thousands of revolutions in a minute, and as the weight fell of course its momentum incseased. The result was that the heavy iron wheels burst by their centrifugal force, and fragments of them went crashing through buildings and were hurled to a great distance. Fortunately nobody was seriously injured.

THE STATE.

GREENSBURG is to have a fine Masonic Temple.

THE Erie Gazette is out for Horace Greeley for President.

WAYNESBURG has five base ball clubs. Unhappy Waynesburg!

MARTIN J. FRENCH, a compositor in the Cosmopolite office, died at Girard on the 27th.

MRS. MARGARET GILL, of Southhampton, was bitten in the head by a malicious horse and very dangerously injured.

THE Waynesburg Messenger swallows the new departure business. Poor brother Pauley, it is a bitter dose for him.

THE Great Council of Pennsylvania, Improved Order of Red Men, will be held in Pottsville during the third week of July.

A MAN in Danville has kept one hotel for forty years, and has an old bachelor boarder, who has been with him for thirty-five years.

FRANKLIN COUNTY rejoices over a magnificent wheat crop. From every section comes cheering notes about the crops and fruit promises.

THE Lancaster Inquirer, one of our most appreciated Republican exchanges, comes to us this week in a greatly enlarged form and an entire new dress.

THE Corryites are considerably elated at the discovery of oil in a water well at the depth of twenty-five feet. A company has been organized and $1,000 raised to put down a test well. There is nothing very strange or startling about the discovery of oil in surface water wells.

THE Greenville Argus learns that the Jamestown and Ashtabula Railroad Company has purchased seventy acres of land in and near Jamestown, upon which they propose to erect, at an early day, extensive machine shops and other manufacturing establishments. This is the projected road to which we referred last week, in connection with a branch to Conneaut Harbor. It evidently means business.

THE Lancaster Express says the executors of the estate of the late Hon. Thaddeus Stephens will erect a monument over his grave the present summer. The Express adds: "When Mr. Stephens discovered that there was a clause in the charters of the several cemeteries prohibiting the burial of any but white persons in them, he declined to take any of the lots, and went to Shreiner's private cemetery, where no such prohibition existed. He purchased two adjoining lots. One of his friends, in view of the fact that there was no one but himself to be buried in them, asked him why he secured so much ground. 'Oh, well,' he replied, in his inimitable humorous way, 'same poor devil may come along one of these days, and will have no place to go. He can turn in with me.'"

ONE day last week at the house of a family named Ulrich, near Middle Spring, Franklin county, a snake made its appearance. It seems that Mrs. Ulrich left her little child playing on the floor whilst she went up stairs to attend to some domestic duties. After remaining there for some time she heard loud cries of laughter coming from the child and she retraced her steps to see the cause. Imagine her horror when looking in the room she saw a huge black snake wrapped around the little child's body and entwined around its neck, all the while the little one laughing until the tears rolled down its cheeks. Struck with fear her piercing screams alarmed her husband working near by, who came in and evidently saved the child's life by drawing it from the folds of the snake whilst Mrs. U. loosed it with a hoe, and they were thus enabled to dispatch it. The little child was delighted with its strange companion and seemed regretful that it should be so murderously dealt with.

POLITICAL.

GOV. CLAFLIN has withdrawn from the Gubernatorial contest in Massachusetts.

IT is reported that Senator Morton, in a speech in Indiana, advocated the enfranchisement of woman.

MR. WM. PINCKNEY WHYTE appears to be the favorite Democratic candidate for Governor of Maryland, and many Democratic journals thinks he will be nominated on the first ballot.

THE Mobile Register says to its national allies: "Make your platform, choose your candidates, gorge all the spoils if you like, but no airs of superiority, no lofty looking down upon 'rebels' and 'secesh.' Not one glance or syllable of it. Better quit it, gentlemen, or somebody's ambitious prospects may be hurt, and there may be another 'departure.'"

THE new departure is being swallowed by many of the Democratic journals. One of the necessary requisites for the advocacy of their newly adopted principles, is a little less ignorance. In consequence of this, Democratic editors are trying to learn a little something, and the way old facts strike them as new discoveries is sometimes quite amusing. The Cleveland Plain Dealer for instance, announces with great unction, to its readers, that "the battle of Bunker Hill was a draw." This shows us how far that editor has progressed in his "Frost's history of the United States." We expect before long to hear some other and later news from him, concerning the surrender at Saratoga, or the battles of Trenton or Brandywine.

THIS is the way the Louisville organ of the New Departure urges its readers to vote for its party: "What care the Radical politicians for the colored race or any other race that will not help them. The most sagacious of them have long since seen the mistake they made in disfranchising the leading men of the South, and in perpetuating many other wrongs, but they had not the honesty to retrace their steps. They kept on from bad to worse till they clapped the climax of infamous legislation by placing such power in the hands of the President as the Queen of England dare not exercise. We are no alarmists, but it is our deliberate conviction that if the Radical party should obtain a new lease of power in '72 there will not be a fragment of the old Government of the United States left at the end of General Grant's second term.

A DEMOCRATIC paper manages to mix things so well that they all ought to go into the compounding—not to say confounding—business. The Cleveland Plain Dealer says: "The young women of America have been commiserated on the fact that the young czarwitch of Russia, who will visit this country in September, is married. However, it is not as bad as it might be. The Czar's son will bring a suite composed of the most illustrious youths of the Russian nobility. Take courage, girls!" Now the truth is the czarewitch is the husband of the Princess Dagmar of Denmark and has no idea of crossing the ocean, whereas his younger brother, Grand Duke Alexis who is destined to be the future nominal commander of the Russian navy, is not married and is coming to America in a short time. As to twitting the American girls about these traveling Princes, that was considered old and in wretched taste, ten years ago at least.

Works of Art Lost.

Galignani says a considerable number of works of art have been lost forever in the destruction of the Hotel de Ville in Paris. The period of the Rennaissance had produced the elegant central edifice, the magnificent chimney-pieces at each extremity of the Salle du Trone, one executed by Biard, pupil of Michael Angelo, and the other by Bodin, and the lower figures of the bell tower, the upper part of which was by M. Cavalier, an artist still alive. To the above may be added the Zodiac gallery, of which the decorative sculpture and carved woodwork were by Jean Goujon. The age of Louis XIV. was represented by the statue of the King by Coysevox, a masterpiece, which the Kellers had cast in Florentine bronze. Modern art loses the forty-six statues placed in the niches of the principal facade, and all of which have been destroyed or damaged. The library, of from 80,000 to 100,000, mostly historical, and which was situated on the third floor of the northeast pavillion, is also burnt, as well as the valuable collections of maps of the department of the Seine. The walls and ceilings of the State apartments were decorated by the most celebrated artists of the day, each in his own particular style. Among those represented were Ingres E. Delacroix, Leon Conignet, Hubert Robert, the great landscape painter Chopin, Hesse, Vauchelet, Picot, Landelle, H. Vernot, Riesener, Henri Lehmann, Gosse, Genouville, Cabanel, etc. Yvon also recently executed four fine historical pieces for the Council hall.

Pio Nono and Queen Victoria.

On the occasion of the Papal jubilee an address was presented to the Pope by an association of ladies called the "Pia Unione delle Donne Cattoliche." According to the Voce della Verita, His Holiness replied in the following terms: "I welcome this your estimable visit, and these words in which you have so well expressed your sentiments. Although tempests everywhere pursue our Church, it's a great comfort to us to see this affection toward the Holy See that is everywhere so strongly and so generously manifested. The mode you have selected for celebrating this privilege that the Lord has accorded to me in preference to so many of my predecessors has been the most appropriate, since there is nothing more holy than to do good to and succor the indigent. Elsewhere also, everywhere in the most distant lands, the good Catholics have wished to celebrate it, and two telegrams have just reached me, one of which informs me that the good Maltese desire to celebrate this anniversary as an appointed festival, and that the Governor of Malta, granting the request of the Bishops of Malta and Gozzo, has ordered that their wish should be fulfilled. The other telegram informs me that the Queen of England, although not a Catholic, has also associated herself with these sentiments by sending me a cordial letter of congratulation." The assembly at this announcement, broke out into exclamations of joy and applause.

According to the correspondent of the Paris Temps, the ladies met after their audience and sent off the following telegram to Mgr. Manning, the archbishop of Westminster: "Make known to her Majesty the profound gratitude of 800 Roman ladies for the telegram sent by her to-day to His Holiness."

HORACE GREELEY neglects to inform his friends, when teaching them "all he knows about farming," that it was his invariable practice, as well as that of every good husbandman of his acquaintance, to take at breakfast, dinner and supper about two glasses of Pier, Dannals & Co's. cream ale.

7-30 GOLD LOAN
OF THE
Northern Pacific Railroad.
RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.
The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 130 miles of finished road, and track-laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul & Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 560.
A GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhesitatingly recommend as a profitable and perfectly safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest, (more than 8 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the road is completed, on 23,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 500 acres for each $1,000 bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; principal and interest are payable in gold; Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.
LANDS FOR BONDS.—Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at TEN PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.
SINKING FUND.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The land grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment accessible to the people which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.
EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit, and greatly increasing their yearly income.
OTHER SECURITIES.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current prices in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. EXPRESS CHARGES on Money or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned. For sale by

LOUISVILLE CEMENT.
The Best--The Cheapest.
The Cement has acquired the reputation as the first in the country in hydraulic strength and uniform reliability.
It is now in general use from the lakes to the Gulf, most of the public works in the West and South being constructed with it.
The mills at Louisville having been enlarged and improved, can supply any demand, and though the Cement has always, for 30 years brought higher prices than competing brands, it is from this time the determination of the manufacturers, in order to largely increase the sale and extend the use of their Cement, to furnish it in the principal markets at prices which make it the most available and economical for all classes of work.
The large capacity of this Cement for taking sand renders it much the cheapest that can be used for buildings of any kind.
At the reduced prices in Pittsburgh its cost is not much above common lime, which makes it unquestionably to the interest of owners and builders that the foundation of every good house should be laid in this Cement.
A large stock of fresh Cement has just been received by barges from Louisville, and is offered at greatly reduced prices by the following dealers:

THE Post is soured at the banquet, the result, no doubt, of imbibing too much wine on that occasion. Not the first instance in its history of similar causes producing similar effects.

THE Post calls President Grant "a first-class horse jockey," while in the same breath almost it lauds those "incorruptible and sterling patriots," Jeff Davis and Alex. H. Stephens. We suppose it speaks for the party of which it is the only mouth-piece in this neighborhood. If such sentiments as the above please Allegheny county Democrats, there is still another "departure" evidently necessary.

GEO. B. McCLELLAN, the General of Manassas and Peninsular fame, in a letter to the Tammany Democracy of New York, advises them to "show the negro who his real friends are," and by this means they will be enabled to turn eventually "in their own favor the weapons so carefully forged for their own destruction." He showed himself to be the real friend of the negro when he was on dress parades on the Potomac, York and James rivers. But he feels now that the negroes may become "wooden weapons" to the Democracy. He has great faith in harmless guns. McClellan the friend of the negro !! Shades of Wilberforce and Clarkson !!

THE Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot invited the Knights Templar of Allegheny to participate of the hospitalities of his magnificent barsnial castle, at Alton Towers, on the fourth of July. Religious services were held in the private chapel of the castle, and were conducted by the Earl's chaplain. In the prayer used on the occasion, the chaplain coupled the name of the President of the United States with that of the Queen of England. This is supposed to have been the first occasion upon which this has been done in England. It evinces a growing friendliness in the English people towards Americans, and will, no doubt, be duly appreciated on this side of the Atlantic. It is a manifestation, too, that there is a desire on the part of the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty to carry out the Washington Treaty, both in its letter and spirit. It was also complimentary to the Templars and the county they represent to invite them to celebrate Independence Day in the ample halls of the castle at Alton Towers, and enjoy a recreative walk through the beautiful grounds that surround it, which are adorned with a profusion of American plants. The sovereigns of the United States and the nobility of England have struck hands in a friendly grasp.

SAFETY TO MINERS.

Judge Harding, of Wilkesbarre, has rendered a decision in regard to the health and safety of persons employed in the coal mines of this State. A bill in Equity was filed by Thomas M. Williams, Inspector of Mines for the Middle District of Luzerne and Carbon counties, against Samuel Bonnell, Jr., William L. Lance, Sr., Walter W. Lance and De Haven Lance, praying that an injunction might issue to restrain the respondents, their agents, servants, and all others deriving authority from them, from working in the colliery owned by them, until full compliance has been made with the act of March 3d, 1870, the third section of which provides that:

"Four months from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for the owner or agent of any anthracite coal mine or colliery, worked by or through a shaft or slope, to employ any person in working within such coal mine or colliery, or to permit any person to be in such coal mine or colliery for the purpose of working therein, unless there are in communication with every seam or stratum of coal worked in such coal mine or colliery, for the time being at work, at least two shafts or slopes, or outlets, separated by natural strata, of not less than one hundred and fifty feet in breadth, by which shafts, slopes, or outlets distinct means of ingress and egress are always available to the persons employed in the coal mine or colliery; but it shall not be necessary for the two shafts, slopes, or outlets, to belong to the same coal mine or colliery, if the persons therein employed have ready and available means of ingress and egress, by not less than two shafts, slopes or outlets, one or more of which may belong to another coal mine or colliery; provided that a second opening can be had through coal; but if a tunnel or shaft shall be required for the additional opening, work upon the same shall commence immediately after the passage of this act and continue until its final completion, with not less than three shifts in each twenty-four hours, and as many hands to be employed as can be put to work with advantage—the inspector to be the judge as to the least number of hands engaged per shift. This section shall not apply to opening a new coal mine or colliery, nor to any working for the purpose of making a communication between two or more shafts, slopes or outlets, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed at any one time in the said new mine or working. And the term "owner" used in this act shall mean the immediate proprietor, lessee, or occupier of a coal mine, or colliery, or of any part thereof; and the term "agent" shall mean any person having, on behalf of the owner, the care or direction of any coal mine or colliery, or of any part thereof.

The Judge admitted that there was a want of clearness in this section of the law, but held that there was no ambiguity, the proviso being "simply cumulative in its character." It grants permission to work "a mine or colliery already closed by the terms of the section itself; but only on one condition, namely, that the working shall be for a second opening through coal."

Judge Harding reviewed the act at great length, and decided that "the law must be obeyed." He therefore decreed that the injunction previously granted should be continued until the court gives further orders.

The law is a wise one, and every person possessed of humane feelings will rejoice in and endorse the decision given by Judge Harding. If the precautions required in the act, of March 1870, had been observed, our State and the country would not have been shocked by the fearful disaster at Pittston. It is proper therefore that all owners of collieries should be restrained from operating their mines until the wise provisions of the law, relating to means of communication and exit shall have been complied with.

OUR MANUFACTURERS AND FREE TRADE.

We call the attention of our manufacturers to the fact that the country is being flooded with enticing documents, teaching in the most insidious language the pernicious doctrines of "Free Trade." Appeals are addressed to the workingmen and efforts are made to stir up the worst blood, and excite it to antagonism against capital. Nor is this effort confined alone to our State, although doubtless it is thought to be more necessary to work on our people in order to obtain the vast influence of the vote of Pennsylvania in favor of free trade, and against protection. Through the entire west we find these silent messengers doing their work. The arguments used are, in the main, directed to the baser part of our natures by attempts to prove that the producer is annually forced to pay a heavy advance on the goods he is compelled to buy, in order to support the "iron aristocracy of the east." Man is naturally inclined to find fault with his lot, particularly when that lot is one that forces him to toil and labor in the interest of others. Under such conditions it requires little argument to convince his mind that his toil, while it barely brings to himself a scanty support, enriches others, who in his shortsightedness he is induced to believe work not at all. And the argument reaches beyond that, and proves that whilst this state of things exists, the laborer and producer, for everything they are forced to buy, must pay tribute to the wealthy manufacturer.

No notice, of course, is taken of the other side of this argument. No effort is made to show that when manufacturing stops, labor, and the demand for it, stops, thus closing all avenues against the workingman's efforts to obtain a livelihood by his work, and therefore we do not wonder that willing converts are daily made to the deceptive doctrines of free trade.

Now let us ask in all frankness, what our manufacturers are doing to circumvent these pernicious influences. Are they making any effort directly, to counteract these efforts of the British importers and their tools? Are they giving that support even to their home newspapers which common foresight—to say nothing of justice—should demand? Is any organized or other effort made to have those papers, which almost daily devote whole columns of space and earnest labor to their interests, and to the dissemination of correct principles of political economy, reach their employes? Do they even give that ordinary advertising support to such papers, which judgment, if not justice, would seem to urge them to do? Of course we speak now of our manufacturers as a body, and not as individuals. Some of them do their whole duty in these regards, whilst others, content to enjoy the fruits of the labors in their behalf, do nothing.

Why is it that the circulation of a Pittsburgh newspaper devoted to the principles of protection to American labor, barely reaches ten thousand copies, in a commmunity of two hundred and fifty thousand souls, forty thousand of whom are voters? Do our capitalists know that it is not an uncommon thing for importers to subscribe for 200 to 500 (in one instance as high as 1,000) copies of papers which advocate free trade and distribute them amongst their customers throughout the West? Would it be expecting too much of our leading manufacturers to ask them to give us their assistance, to counteract the influence of these and similar efforts, in our own community, by taking 100 copies each of a Pittsburgh paper which is outspoken for protection, and distribute it daily among their workmen? Would it not pay in the end, better than some other investment, made with the same purpose in view?

We ask our leading manufacturers to give this subject the attention it deserves, and we think demands. There is no reason why at least 100 of them should not each take 100 copies daily of one of our papers and let their workmen read them. The one thousand dollars a year, spent in this way, will be well spent, and its effect will be felt in more ways than one.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Among the notable events of the late session of the General Synod of the "Reformed (Dutch) Church in America" was the presence of a delegation from the Synod of Ohio, attached to the "Reformed Church of the United States," requesting a union of their respective bodies, for which purpose the General Synod appointed five commissioners for the Conference. It is said these fraternal overtures between the Dutch and German Churches date back a half century. The statistics of the Synod of Ohio show marked prosperity within a period of forty-seven years. It was organized in 1824 with eleven ministers, eighty churches, and twenty-five hundred members. In 1871 the reports show there are one hundred and thirty ministers, two hundred and ninety congregations, and twenty thousand members. The language in which the services of these two hundred and ninety churches is as follows: English language one hundred and sixty-five; German and French sixty-three; and partly English and German sixty-two.

The Christian Union, referring to the discussion in the Evangelical Association, a German body of Christians much like the United Brethren in Christ, about the title of the Church, thinks unless they hurry the matter of fixing upon the name of "Evangelical Episcopal Church," recommended to the General Conference for its approval, that if a schism occurs in the Episcopal Church, because of the Cheney affair, that name may be selected to define their ecclesiastical position.

It is reported there is a sect called Soul-Sleepers in Southwestern Virginia, who believe in the annihilation of the wicked, and the sleep of the righteous until the resurection. From the report of a correspondent of the Christian Standard this doctrine is finding some favor in the churches of the Disciples of Christ in some parts of Indiana.

The movement in the Reformed (Dutch) Church, to raise a Centennial Fund, is beginning to assume a definite shape. The Committee appointed by the General Synod is busily at work preparing suggestions to be printed for general circulation. With the grand precedent of the Methodist Church on the occasion of their Centennial and since of the Presbyterians as a memorial of their re-union, the one million of dollars proposed to be raised, ought to call out the enthusiasm and generosity of the entire denomination.

The Tablet (Catholic) strongly protests against the laying of the corner-stone of the new capitol at Albany, New York, under the auspices of the Free Masons. Many others oppose the thing on the same ground as the Catholics, because of its being a secret society, and still more that a single society should be put forward to represent a whole people, and other societies overlooked. The Christian Union says the only reason it can see why the Free Masons should lay the corner-stone of a public building, is that they wear silk aprons and play with trowels, and it further thinks it about as sensible to have it laid by the Baptists, because the mortar must be mixed with water.

The debt of the Missionary Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of one hundred thonsand dollars, is beginning to be reduced. Since the early part of the year the churches have been taking up a special collection for that purpose, and so far the responses have been quite encouraging. The regular collection for this cause will be lifted this year as usual by the congregations of that body.

Rev. C. H. Kellogg, a missionary of the Church Guild of Cincinnati, has been using the Gloria Patri at the end of every Psalm, whereupon Bishop McIlvaine addressed him a note, stating in his judgment so much singing of the Gloria Patri was inexpedient and detrimental to the efforts of mission work. No reply was made, and the Bishop wrote again. Mr. Kellogg replied substantially that he was acting under instructions of the Executive Committee of the Guild. The Bishop notified him under the circumstances he must consider himself not entitled to a seat in the Episcopal Convention, and therefore, suspended. The Bishop then addressed the Guild to know their authority in such matters.

It is refreshing these times, when so much has been said against the Indians, to learn that quite a revival of religion has occurred among the Nez Peres, whose reservation we believe is in Oregon, resulting in the conversion and accession to the Methodist Episcopal Church of two hundred and fifty Indians.

There is something significant in the fact that the income of the Unitarian Association has fallen from one hundred thousand dollars, in 1865, to thirty-eight thousand. The Liberal Christian sounds a loud note of alarm because of the apathy of the Unitarians.

A brother asks a Yankee Methodist editor: "When Christ suffered on the cross, did His Divine nature suffer with His human nature?" Answer: We do not know.

ETIQUETTE OF GRIEF.

The Berlin Bazar, in reply to a letter signed "Deep Mourning," gives the following regulations, which will doubtless prove as soothing to American mourners as they do to German inconsolables:

"Widows' weeds can be worn one, or, according to the now fashionable English custom, two years. If, therefore, you should wish to follow the accompanying table of instructions, which was made for a single year, you can double each period of time mentioned if you choose. During the first three months: Black woolen gowns of merino, cashmere or thibet with trimmings of double crape, (crepe anglais,) or of some similar material; collar, cuffs, bonnet and veil of crape, also a little cap. In cold weather the bonnet may be of merino, with crape trimming and a simple hemmed veil, with a large cashmere shawl, with fringe or a crape border. Jewelry should be of unpolished jet, and the handkerchief should have a broad black border. After the first three months, woolen clothes with trimmings, chemisette and cuffs of black lace may be worn; also crape bonnet with mourning flowers and lace veil. And finally, in the later periods of grief: black silk, though with as little lustre as possible; white lingerie with black bands; black straw or lace bonnet with feather; trimmings of silk or velvet; jewelry of polished jet or hair, also onyx. Gold and precious stones are quite out of the question. For evening dress: silk, grenadine, algerienne, grenadine with satin stripes, white camelias, white roses without leaves, black or white pearls, long black gloves, or white ones with black seams and edges, handkerchief with lace, black or all white fan (to match the gloves). With woolen gowns black stockings as well as black underskirts are worn, although with the silk gown both may be white. Grey, lilac and pensee are now so universally worn that they have ceased to be regarded as evidence of grief. In consequence of this, half mourning, such as was worn in former times, no longer exists.

A JUST COMPLAINT.

EDITORS GAZETTE: As yours is an enterprising sheet and a corrector of evils—particularly of misapplied transactions in our city government—and as your subscriber, a good citizen and a large taxpayer on property scattered throughout the different parts of the city, a small share of which is in the neighborhood of Millvale, I would venture to make some suggestions and ask some few questions by way of correcting evils near the latter part of our city. You know all out around that section of country are now in the city—are legitimate taxpayers—help to support the Mayor, Councils and city government generally, and are now in either the Fourteenth or the Twentieth ward of the city of Pittsburgh. But withal, strange to say, our tremendous taxes do not bring us all the necessary comforts of a city life; for gas or water we have none, can get none, and patiently have we awaited it over a year—we paying our water and other taxes all the same in the "interim. The City Fathers and their friends can command the city water pipes down Amberson avenue, Aiken's Lane and the various cross streets, which accommodate only a few, but the populace, the largest taxpayers proportionately, through the old McFarland Grove territory and down about Bellefield along Neville street (where houses are thick and many dry wells), cannot have a water pipe laid so nicely as a few large houses about Roup's Station. There is want of consistency in those matters of favoritism; let the Water and Gas Committees run their pipes down along all the streets alike where there are any houses dependent, paying taxes, without awaiting grading, as calculation can be made for that easily.

CITIZEN.

Royal Marriage in Prospect--The King of Bavaria's Matrimonial Designs.

King Louis of Bavaria has, if we are to believe the Munich correspondent of Im Neuen Reich, at last determined to marry, though he has not yet fixed upon the princess whom he will propose to make his queen. The reason of this determination is, according to the correspondent, the fact that the King's brother, Prince Otto, who is the heir presumptive, will probably die childless, and that the succession would in that case fall upon his cousin, Prince Louis. This prince, who is married to a princess of Modena, is a violent Ultramontane, and is suspected of intriguing with the clerical party against the Liberals, whose opinions are shared by the King. Last year Prince Louis openly agitated in the Upper House against the Premier, Prince Hohenlohe, with the object of overthrowing his Cabinet and replacing it by an anti-unionist one, and it is said that he is now in constant communication with the Ultramontanes and the Bourbonists by the aid of his confidential adviser, Count Blome. All these circumstances taken together have, says the correspondent, overcome the King's hitherto insuperable dislike to marriage. His Majesty's choice will fall, he concludes, either on the only daughter of the Emperor of Russia, or, which is more probable, on the eldest daughter of prince Frederick Charles of Prussia. The chances of his marrying a member of the Austrian dynasty have entirely disappeared since 1866, and an alliance with the royal house of Prussia would have the advantage of greatly strengthening the national party at Court. The difference of religion would not be a formidable obstacle to such an alliance, as Protestant marriages are to a certain extent traditional of the house of Birkenfeld, which only re-entered the Roman Catholic Church about a hundred years ago.

Another Snake Story.

The Lanesboro (Minn.) Herald of the 4th says: "Last week Sunday, as a Norwegian girl, living some four miles from this place, was walking along the road, she passed directly in front of, and very close to, a huge rattlesnake that was just coming out of the grass into the road. This uncourteous action seemed to make his snakeship very wroth, and he immediately sounded the battle alarm by rattling his gong. The girl well knew the sound and turned to ascertain the location of her ugly foe, which she soon did, and, instead of running, screaming or fainting, looked about for something with which to defend herself. She could find nothing, nor had she long time to look, for the snake, with eyes glistening, rattles in motion, mouth wide open and his tongue darting back and forth, was close upon her. But she was pluck to the backbone and did not propose to surrender the field without a fight—in fact retreat was out of the question for the snake was now within arm's reach of her—so keeping her eyes steadily on the snake's head, she commenced the fight with her foot, moving it back and forth, up and down, in every direction, the snake following the motions with his head to get a chance to bite. This performance lasted but perhaps a minute—hours to her—when, by a quick movement, she got the advantage, and down came the foot and heavy shoe upon the snake's head, where she held him until he was dead. She then found a stone and pounded off the rattles to keep as a trophy. There were nineteen rattles, and she says it was the largest rattlesnake she ever saw."

Concerning Mr. Bergh.

The Golden Age says: Mr. Bergh has been carrying matters with altogether too high a hand for our Mayor, who insists that he has no business to stop vehicles and detain passengers and attract crowds in the streets without a due process of law, though the letter of the statute confers that authority upon him. Mr. Bergh had actually succeeded in compelling a certain decent regard to the rights of living creatures on the part of brutal drivers and heartless corporations, and roughs, who are on the best of terms with the police trembled at the sight of this philanthropist. He was fast becoming one of the most popular men in the city by his thorough devotion to his work and the beneficent exercise of his power. But His Excellency can bear no rival near his throne, nor consent to see his friends, the horse-whippers, dealt with according to their deserts. It is to be hoped that Mr Bergh will be sustained in his noble work of protecting the humanity of men from the brutality of brutes. Mr. Bergh's dignified but pointed answer is as complete an exposure of the meaning of the Mayor's order as that gentleman's worst enemy could wish to see, and his appeal from the Mayor to the people shows that he is something of a hero as well as a philanthropist.

LEGAL CONVEYANCING.—The Globe, a London evening paper of June 12, says that there appeared in the Law Times of June 3, a London weekly journal, "an original editorial leader," entitled Combinations to Control Prices, "which, with the exception of a few lines and few omissions, is copied verbatim, without a syllable of acknowledgment from a judgment delivered by Mr. Justice Agnew, in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania on the 8th of May last." This, of course, was mere conveyancing. It is complimentary to Mr. Agnew, but is very unfair.

HARDNESS OF HEARING.

We repeat what we have often said before in these columns that there are numberless persons who are sadly afflicted with slight difficulty of hearing, for which they have been taught to believe that there is no cure. The late investigations in the anatomy and structure of the ear, and the improvement of medicine in regard to the treatment thereof, have made these ailments as easy of removal as any other human infirmity. Dr. Keyser, who has an office in the rear of his Great Medicine Store, 167 Liberty street, has had uniform success in the treatment of all such cases, besides a vast variety of chronic diseases of a scrofulous character, embracing those of the skin and integumentary system; together with Fistula and Piles. Our citizens need not run off to distant localities when persons of such ability as Dr. K. possesses may be found in our midst. We always prefer giving home talent the distinction to which it is justly entitled, if, for no other reason, that prominent one, that such can always be found at their post when wanted, and need not wander all over the country in quest of patients.

HOW WE USED TO BE PHYSICKED.

Who does not remember the time when spring purgation was considered indispensible to summer health? No matter for wry faces, the inevitable salts and senna, rhubarb, or calomel and jalap, must be administered. These "spring medicines," the youngsters were told, were to keep them hale and hearty during the summer. We all know now that this was a fallacy; that new vigor not depletion, is what is requested at the commencement of the summer solstice. As a preparation for the enervating effects of oppressive summer weather, a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is highly expedient. This famous vegetable preparation has three prominent properties: It renovates, purifies and regulates all the functions of the body. It is composed exclusively of pure vegetable productions, viz.: the essential principles of Monongahela Rye, and the most efficacious tonic and alterative roots, barks, and gums known to medical botanists. Hence, it is an absolutely safe medicine, and no tincture of the Pharmacopœia can compare with it either in purity, or in the variety of its objects, and its comprehensive results. Happily for mankind, the theory that it was necessary to prostrate him, is forever exploded, and the true philosophical doctrine, that vigor is the great antagonist of disease, has taken its place. Hostetter's Bitters is an invigorant, and hence it is the proper medicine for the feeble at the most trying season of the year.

Be sure that you obtain the genuine article, as there are innumerable vile imitations in the market. Look to the ornamental stamp, the engraved label, and the name blown into the glass. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles only.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

—The New York Bulletin says: We hear a rumor to the effect that the opposition to the lease of the Camden and Amboy and New Jersey Transportation Company to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and the prospect of a long litigation is likely to lead to the practical abandonment of the lease, and that the Pennsylvania railroad people are now trying to get a controlling interest in the New Jersey Central Railroad Company, which would give them a better New York connection than the Camden and Amboy line.

NEW YORK, July 7, 1871.

Gold has been weak and there seems to be no confidence felt in a further advance at present. It declined to 112 during the day, but closed at 113⅛. Exports to-morrow will be light. The cable announcement of the increase of specie in the Bank of France helped the depressed market. In the morning 1 per cent. was paid for carrying, and in the forenoon 2 and 2½ per cent. Clearances 47½ million.

The Government Bond market was heavy and lower at close, in sympathy with a decline in gold. Revival stories that the government had placed a large amount of new 5 per cents. in London failed to arrest the downward course in prices.

Stocks have been dull and strong, except Rock Island, which continues to drag on the market. Reading and Lake Shore are the strongest stocks on the list, and Rock Island weakens, having gone down to 101⅛, the lowest point since the great break. Northwestern have been comparatively steady; Ohio and Mississippi and Western Union have been neglected, and it is said large amount of Northwestern preferred bonds bought lately for the Amsterdam bankers. Market at the close was firmer, and the highest quotations of the day were made in volume. Business was light. It is reported that Woodward offers to settle in full with notes at two, three, four and five years, with interest. Money abundant at three per cent. State bonds dull and heavy; the only transactions were in Missouri's.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 7, 1871.

The metal market during the past week has been very quiet—the sales being mainly for such lots as are required to keep up mixtures. This will probably be the condition of the market through this month—though we hear of some negotiations for large lots for future delivery. The manufacturers complain of a great dearth of orders, and are consequently stopping the mills in part or altogether—to await the opening of the regular fall trade. Nails are in sympathy with bar iron, so far as demand is concerned, and prices are drooping. We founded expectations for a good, brisk fall trade are entertained, by reason of the abundant crops, the small stocks in hands of jobbers, and prevailing ease in financial affairs.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 7, 1870.

The Wool market is rather quiet now and transactions are limited. But few lots are unsold, or remaining in growers hands, and but few lots in second hands in the west, nearly all the purchases having been shipped forward, agents have nothing now to do but rest on their oars. Advices from the eastern markets quote prices firm with an advancing tendency, and, although prices have been higher in the country than was generally anticipated at the opening of the season, yet we think the average purchases made by dealers and manufacturers will afford them a fair margin of profit. We quote prices nominal for all goods, in good condition, at 50@55c.

The wool article in the last number of the Boston Bulletin is decidedly "bullish" in its tone, more so, some people think, than the facts in the case warrant. The Bulletin says that the market is strong, and all that offers is picked up quickly, and, that too, at full prices; it also alleges that wool is higher relatively than its products, and this is generally conceded; and it concludes from this, in view of the fact that the clip of the entire country is reported short, that the price of wool will probably still further appreciate.

Cotton Markets.

NEW ORLEANS, July 7.—Cotton quiet at 20⅛c.
CHARLESTON, July 7.—Cotton quiet at 20c.
MOBILE, July 7.—Cotton firm at 19⅛c.
GALVESTON, July 7.—Cotton firm; good ordinary 16c.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 7, 1871.

ASHES—Common Soda Ash, 4⅛@4⅝; refined do. 4⅛@4⅝; Pearls, 8⅛@9; Pots, 7⅛@7⅛.

BUTTER—The market continues very dull and with continued liberal receipts and a very limited demand, prices are barely maintained; we continue to quote at 12@15 for fair to good and 16@18 for prime to choice.

BROOM CORN—Is reported a little more active, with sales, mostly in small lots, however, at from 5 to 7 cts, according to quality.

BEANS—Prime white $2.00@2.25 per bushel.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 33@35.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2.50@3.00 per bbl. Rosendale, $4.00@4.50; Calcined Plaster, $4.25@4.50.

COUNTRY BACON—Very dull, though the stock is not increasing. Country Lard, 9@10c.

CORN MEAL—The demand is light and restricted mainly to small lots while prices are unchanged, 80@85 cts per bushel.

CHEESE—Continues to arrive freely, and prices are weak though unchanged; 12 for prime Ohio Goshen; 11 for prime Factory and 9@10 for Dairy.

CARBON OIL—Is a shade firmer, in sympathy with crude, though without quotable change in prices; standard brands, in a jobbing way, 24@25—usual advance for small lots.

CANNED GOODS—Tomatoes are very scarce, and standard brands, are held firmly at $2.62. Peaches unchanged; $2 for 2 lb and $3.00@3.25 for 3 lb cans; stock of 3 lb cans very much reduced. Corn, $2,50 including Winslow's.

EGGS—The market is reported more active, and with an apparently improved demand and only moderate receipts, the feeling is firmer, though prices remain unchanged, 16@17 for strictly fresh. It is but proper to remark, however, that in the event of any material increase in the receipts, these figures could not be sustained, as the demand is entirely local.

FLOUR—Is dull and weak, though there is no quotable change to make in quotations, $6.75@7.00 for good spring extras; $7.25 for choice Minnesota baker's flour and $7.00@7.25 for good to choice red winter wheat. The receipts have fallen off somewhat within the past day or two, and it is probable that they will continue light for some time to come, as dealers generally are more anxious to reduce than increase their stocks, and this being the case, it would be difficult at present to dispose of a round lot, and it would be well enough for country millers and others who intend making consignments to this market, to bear this in mind.

FRUITS—Green Apples, coming in freely and the market is well supplied; we now quote at $3@5 per bbl, according to quality. Oranges and Lemons, slow and easier; may be quoted at $6@7. Layer Raisins, $3 per box; Valencia Raisins, 13c per lb; Prunes, 10c for Turkey and 12c for French. Currants, 10c.

GRAIN—There is but little doing in Wheat, and notwithstanding the receipts continue very light, prices are weak and drooping; we continue to quote good to choice red at $1.30@1.35 and white at $1.40@1.45. We understand that offers have been made from Ohio to deliver new wheat here at $1.22@1.23; however, old wheat will be wanted for at least a month to come, and that, too, at a premium of 8@10 cts per bushel over the new. There is no question, however, but what the new crop will be fully an average, in quantity, and the probability, is that both new and old will rule lower. Oats weak, but with only a moderate supply, prices are still maintained, 6 c buying, and 63c selling—small lots, 65@68c. The new crop is likely to turn much better than was generally expected some weeks ago, and to this may be attributed the weakness above referred to. Rye is scarce but there does not seem to be much inquiry for it; we continue to quote at $1.00@1.05.

GROCERIES—The grocery market is fairly active, and the operations in sugars, both raw and refined, are large and will in all probability continue large for the next two months. Coffee, is also a little more active, the recent advance by the importers having caused jobbers to take hold a little more freely though the feeling prevails that the advance is not legitimate, having been brought about by a bull movement on the part of the importers, and that, in view of the unusually heavy stocks in this country, is not likely to be maintained.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 19; Prime, 18; Good, 17; Fair, 16½; Roasting, 15½@16.

SYRUPS AND DRIPS—White Honey, 72; Havemyer & Elders, 72; Silver Drips, 60; other grades, 45@55.

SUGARS—Choice New Orleans, 11¾; prime, 11¼; good, 10¾; fully fair, 10½; Porto Rico Sugars, 10¾@11½; Cuba, 10@11; Demarara, 11¾@12¼.

REFINED SUGARS—Hard Sugars, 14; A Coffee, 13; "B," 12¾; Extra C, 12¾; C. yellow, 12¼.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, choice, 70; prime, 68; good, 65.

TEAS—Fancy Young Hyson, $1 40; Good, $1 10; Fair $1. Lower grades down to 70cts G. P. Fancy, $1 50; good, $1 25; fair, $1. Imperial Fancy, $1 40; good, $1 25; fair, $1. Oolong fancy, $1 25; good, 80cts; fair, 60@70c. Souchong fancy, $1 20; good, 90c; fair, 70@80c. Japan Fancy, $1; good, 90c; fair, 75c.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 10c; prime, 9⅜c; good, 9c.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 22c. Pimento, 17c. Cloves, 20c. Cassia, 55c.

HAY—Is in steady demand, and with light offerings, prices are still maintained; sales of wagon hay at $19@35 per ton, as to quality.

HONEY—We can report sales in a regular way at 25@30 cts per lb, for fair to choice.

HIDES—Green Salted, 10⅛@11⅛; Green Butcher's, 8; Dry Flint, 21@22; Green Calf Skins, 14@15; Green Salted Calf, 17@18.

HUSKS—Quoted at 2⅛@2⅞c.

HEMP—Rough Kentucky, $175 per ton; dressed, 14 cts per lb.

LIME—Perrysburg white, $2.00@2.25 per bbl; Cleveland $2.25; Eastern, $1.75.

MILL FEED—We can report an occasional sale of middlings at $1.70@1.75. Not much inquiry for coarse feed.

ONIONS—In good supply, dull and lower, $4@4.50 per bbl.

OIL—No. 1 Lard is still quoted at 75c, and in a round lot way, and 78@80 for small lots.

PEA NUTS—Quoted at 10⅛@11 cts.

POULTRY—Live chickens by the coop, 70@75 cts per pair.

POTATOES—Continue to come in pretty freely, and the market is dull though prices are not quotably lower, $4@5 per bbl; as noted in our last report, prices within the past week have declined $3@4 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 7⅛@7⅛; ribbed sides, 9@9⅛; clear, 10@10⅛; sugar cured shoulders, 10⅛@11; sugar cured hams, 16@16⅛. Lard, 11@11⅛ in tcs, and 12@12⅛ in kegs. Mess Pork, $17@17.50. Dried Beef, 18@18⅛.

RAGS—Sales, 4@4⅛ cts per lb.

SEEDS—There is nothing doing in seeds. Flaxseed would sell but there is none offering.

SUMAC—Sales Tennessee Sumac at 5⅛ cts.

WILLOWS—Sales Kentucky willows at 10.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 7, 1871.

We have nothing new or important to note. The market in the early part of the day was firm, and prices a shade higher both for crude and refined, but plenty of sellers at the advance. The market closed considerably weaker here and in the oil regions. The stock of refined in Philadelphia is reported to be quite large and receipts continue undiminished. There appears to be much difficulty in securing vessel capacity, and the general opinion seems to be unless tonnage becomes plentier that there will be a large accumulation of stock by the end of the month.

RIVER NEWS.

The river, to use a common phrase, is played, so far, at least, as steamboating is concerned. Some are inclined to hope, as there was no rise in June worthy of the name, that there will be a July freshet, but the indications at present are not very encouraging; there has been considerable rain within the last week or two, but not enough to have any influence on the river.

The new Brownsville packet Geneva took her departure on Thursday on her first regular trip. She took the place of the Chieftain, that boat having been laid up for repairs. She is in command of that veteran steamboatman, Capt. M. A. Cox.

The Arlington, Brill and Lorena are the only boats in port, aside from the coal fleet.

—The New Orleans Commercial Bulletin says: "The Hodge brought yesterday the officers and crew, also the passengers, of the ill-fated Red Cloud. A card of thanks from the passengers in the morning papers gives great praise to Capt. Brinker and his worthy officers and men for their energy, coolness and kindness in the moment of peril. The Red Cloud was insured for only ten thousand dollars, which is about one-fourth of her value. She was a new boat, just built last fall for the Red River trade, in which she was deservedly a leading favorite. The loss of this fine steamer, coming as it does at the end of a bad season, is peculiarly heavy on Capt. Brinker. He has the heartfelt sympathy of this community in his sudden misfortunes. The Hodge brought also the crew of the Big Horn, which is said to have broken her shaft and laid up temporarily at Cassandra.

—The Sioux City Journal, of Sunday, says: The May Lowry will complete her load for Sully the first of the week. Her boiler repairs are nearly completed. The Nellie Peck continues loading, and will clear on next Monday or Tuesday for Grand River. The Peninah, Captain D. M. Brady, arrived yesterday. She was detained at Yankton for repairs on a broken shaft. She brought down from Benton about 75 tons of freight.

—The Cincinnati Commercial of Thursday says: Admiral John James, sr., returned from Pittsburg on Tuesday, and departed for "Corn Island" on the Charmer last evening. As yet the Admiral has not found a boat to suit him. He intends to at once commence preparing his teams for the transfer of freight from the Bermuda and Charmer.

—The hull for the new steamer Thompson Dean was launched on the 4th. She is 300 feet in length, with 48 feet beam, 45 feet floor, and 9 feet hold. She has two 30-inch cylinders of ten feet stroke, 7 boilers, 38 inches in diameter and 30 feet long.

—William Hewitt, an old employee of the dry docks at Memphis, was arrested Saturday and confined in jail, charged with manipulating the suckers and pumps of the dry docks, which caused them to sink a few days since.

—The United States local inspectors at Nashville have suspended the license of Pilot Lafayette Spillers for 30 days, from the 3rd inst., for "intoxication and conduct unbecoming a licensed pilot."

—The chills and fever prevails to a considerable extent along White river. The crews of steamers running in that stream have nearly all been shaking severely, and quinine is at a premium.

—Capt. Andy Robinson, Jr., we are glad to hear, has been pronounced out of danger by his physicians and is rapidly recovering. He is at the Spencer House Cincinnati.

—Geo. Hazlett, recently clerk and one of the owners of the Nile, having sold out to the Missouri River Packet Company, left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

—The Bellevernon left New Orleans for Ohio River on Wednesday, and the Exchange en route from New Orleans to Cincinnati, was at Louisville on Thursday.

—The Greenback is to take out the wreck of the S. P. Hibbard, sunk many years ago at the mouth of Falling Run by the Chancellor.

—Mr. John I. Maples, a well known clerk on Red river, died near San Antonio, Texas, last Saturday night, the 24th inst.

—Capt. W. C. Harrison, present owner of the D. L. Tally, will put her in the New Orleans and Red river trade.

—The John T. Moore has been presented with a magnificent set of horns by the merchants of Shreveport.

—William H. Atkinson, late pilot of the Red Cloud, has married Miss Mary Stockman, of New Orleans.

—The Tyrone sunk a barge with 650 sacks of corn at the shoals on her last trip up the Cumberland.

—A new hull is being built at Metropolis, Illinois, for the machinery and cabin of the Milbrey.

—The Potomac has gone to the bank at Portland for the season unless there is a rise in the river.

GRATES. GRATES.
Keep Your Houses Clean,
AND
BY USING THE
Wellman Patent Reflector
STOVE AND GRATE.
Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.
1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.
2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.
3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.
4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent
5th. It is highly ornamental.
6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.
7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.
Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.
Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "the Wellman." Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

HOME NEWS.

Practical Bookkeeping taught at the Iron City College, corner Penn and Sixth streets.

Eleventh Ward Mission.—The Rev. Wm. M. Coleman will preach (D. V.) to-morrow (Sabbath) evening, under the auspices of the above Mission, in the Moorhead public school house, Granville street, at 7½ o'clock. Seats free, and a hearty welcome to all.

Found Drowned.—The body of a newly born male infant, in a nude state, was found floating in the Ohio river, near the shore of Killbuck Island, by a boy named John Smith on yesterday morning. The coroner was notified and empanelled a jury and held an inquest. The jury returned a verdict of found drowned.

Coroner's Inquest.—The Coroner, yesterday morning, held an inquest on the body of an aged man named James Watson, who died suddenly on Thursday night in an outhouse at 289 Bedford avenue. He was found lying dead in the outhouse at about eight o'clock. Dr. McCandless gave it as his opinion that the cause producing his death was disease of the heart. The old man had been in failing health for some time. A verdict of death from heart disease was rendered.

Grocery Store Robbed.—Yesterday morning some thieves broke into the store of Troutman & Bro., corner Carson and Eighteenth streets, Birmingham, and carried off a quantity of groceries, canned fruits, and a small sum of money from the till. They gained entrance by forcing open the shutters on Eighteenth street, and when through, passed out the front door. An effectual attempt was made to blow open the safe. The detectives are investigating the matter, but thus far have obtained no clue. The loss amounted to $100.

Another Old Citizen Gone.—We are much pained to announce this morning the death of one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens, Mr. William Carson, of Allegheny, which took place rather suddenly at his residence in Allegheny on Thursday morning. The deceased was extensively engaged in the leather business and was widely known and respected. He had attained the ripe old age of three score and twelve years. His life was one filled with goodness, and he leaves a name bright and untarnished. His funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock.

Embankment Caved In—Man Hurt.

Yesterday morning, about eight o'clock, an embankment on Penn avenue, where the workmen are grading for the laying of the new pavement, suddenly caved in. One of the men, Michael Hardy, was down at the foot of the trench at the time, and though his fellow workman called to him, was unable to get out of the way. The earth—sand and gravel—almost covered him up, and it was with considerable difficulty that he was "dug out," when it appeared that he had escaped external injuries but was injured internally. The physician called thinks he is very seriously hurt. He was removed to his home, and every possible attention paid to him, but the result as yet is doubtful.

Boy Wanderer.

Yesterday morning Robert Craig, a little fellow about eleven years of age made application to Secretary McGonnigle of the Allegheny Poor Board for transportation to Warren, Ohio. His story was that his father and mother had died in Crestline, Ohio, a few weeks ago, leaving himself and a little five year old brother orphans. He sold out the household effects, paid his father's debts, paid his brother's boarding in a house at Crestline, and then started for Pittsburgh last Wednesday to find his aunt. When he arrived here he found she had gone to Warren, Ohio, and he was therefore anxious to follow her there, where he also expects to find an uncle Isaac Craig. He was taken care of by some benevolent ladies who found him on Stockton avenue Thursday evening, and yesterday afternoon was provided with the necessary papers to insure his passage to Warren.

The McCabe Will Case.

Yesterday morning at nine o'clock the hearing in the McCabe will case was resumed at the Register's office.

Mr. Michael McSwiggen was crossed examined at length. No explanation of the fact that the date was not affixed to the will was given. The will was written at Mr. McCabe's dictation, on the 11th day of July, and the date was subsequently added by witness' brother, at his request. The signatures of Mr. McCabe and John C. Barr, were written with the same ink as the body of the will. The box in which the will was kept was always locked. Witness found the will among some policies in a portfolio of which he had charge. Mr. McCabe drank no brandy or whisky until two days before his death, and then at the order of his physician. He drank some ale but not much. The hearing was adjourned until nine o'clock Monday morning.

Wants a Pardon.

We understand the friends of the notorious "Cockey" Ward are making a strong effort to have him pardoned. We sincerely hope Governor Geary will not permit a man of this kind to be relieved from the penalty of the law, thereby cheating justice. It is a well known fact, that he has escaped the Penitentiary a hundred times for want of evidence, and belongs to that class of men in this city who keep the lives of all good citizens in jeopardy. If he was a man that had any good qualities about him then those who want him pardoned, might have some pretext for asking it, but he is a low depraved man, living on the disgraceful earning of those poor creatures of girls who inhabit Virgin alley. We hope to get the list of signers asking his pardon, and publish them so the citizens of Pittsburgh will see who would be the means of setting such a man at liberty.

The Pittsburgh Barge Club.

On Thursday evening last this famous club of good fellows and good rowers went on an excursion to the somewhat well-known "Belvidere," up the Allegheny, near Sharpsburg. Eoanlaub—the worthy host during the past fifteen years, who had been the successful caterer to the "Undine" and "Eclipse" clubs when they were manned with such oarsmen as Miltenberger and Caughey, McFadden and Bonafon, Nimick and Clark and Dean, and a host of others now scattered and gone, some to their graves—has gone, amidst the waning glories of the "Belvidere," and is succeeded by a new galaxy in the persons of Messrs. Bush & Moore. From the table spread out to the young tigers Thursday evening, we judge that better things are in store for us in the near future and the few lingering glories of the past are about to be revived by the new and popular proprietors.

But to the excursh. We hear that in a brush the "Tub" took the water from the "Whisper," with its crack crew, and that the beautiful "Alice" would have done so too, had not one or two bad muffs been made by a certain "limb of the law." But we can't think it. No, we don't believe it. Given the "Whisper" with a good crew such as the aforesaid "crack" is, and we think the "Tub" would be left behind, even though manned by the heavy weights of the club.

Well, the trip was enjoyable, very, the ham was excellent, the coffee good and the chickens tender, but the pickled, eggs and the "smier kase" were not on hand, neither was P. P. to eat them. The "Tub," of course, led coming home, the barge tried to climb over a sand bar, which, with the assistance of the "Whisper," and the law on her side, she couldn't do. After that, all reached home much pleased with the excursion. Hope we will be there when they go again.

Novel Surprise Party.

Thursday evening the residence of Mr. Joel Kerr, 135 Elm street, was visited by a surprise party consisting of the deaf mutes, teachers in the Sabbath School of which Mr. Kerr is Superintendent. Precisely at eight o'clock the entire party entered unannounced his residence and confiscated Mr. and Mrs. Kerr and the entire dwelling for the evening. Several of the party were loaded down with mysterious packages and baskets, the contents of which the sequel will disclose. After all parties were reassured, Mr. W. K. Drum, a teacher in the deaf mute school, arose and in mysterious signs, but perfectly intelligible to those concerned, proceeded to present to Mr. Kerr and his amiable lady sundry articles of great utility and value. Some of these might be mentioned, such as silver knives and forks, massive silver castor, valuable set of glassware, wearing apparel, etc., etc. Mr. Kerr was so overcome by surprise and emotion that he was unable to respond at the time, but took occasion during the evening to express his heartfelt thanks.

In addition to all, the surprise party had also arranged for a supper on a grand scale. The table was soon loaded with all the substantials and delicacies of the season, to which fair justice was done. The evening passed in a happy and enjoyable manner, the ties of friendship and love being more firmly cemented. At a late hour this pleasant occasion was brought to a close, when the party departed, after bidding good-by to Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, and after mutual expressions of love and affection.

In common with all friends of humanity, we rejoice in the evident token of the appreciation of the unwearied labors of the good and devoted Christian, Mr. Joel Kerr, in his disinterested efforts to educate and bless those afflicted by the dispensation of the loving Father. God bless him in his noble work.

On every side is the hand of friendship extended, and everywhere is 'welcome—welcome—welcome,' until one feels that he is amongst friends indeed.

De Silva was educated in Italy and designed for a Jesuit priest; he ran away, visited Russia, Egypt, Brazil and the Holy Land, improving himself, after his fashion, as he went along. He spoke Spanish, French, Italian, German and English fluently. He was once sentenced to be garroted in Havana, but escaped; he was with Maximilian in Mexico; he fought in the Federal army, from which he deserted four times. He has been married a dozen times, and had wives all over the country. His knowledge of history and geography was extensive and accurate.

THE WORKHOUSE CONTRACTS.

A Communication from Mr. Megraw—Some Plain Statements.

EDITORS GAZETTE—In answer to several articles which have appeared in the papers relative to my contracts for the new county Workhouse building, I desire to make a few plain statements, as much for the information of the public as to counteract some false statements which have been made. In the first place, in the year 1868 advertisements appeared in the papers calling for bids for the erection of the east wing and the back building. In reply to these advertisements on behalf of Forester and Megraw, I put in the following bid to the Board: for the Rubble works (the foundation) $4; the rock-faced work seventy-five cents (per superficial foot); plain droved work $1.10; molded work (double measure) $1.15; flagging for cells sixty-five cents. Early in 1868 stone cutters were receiving $3.50 per day, and masons from $3.50 to $4 per day. Before the summer arrived the workmen struck no less than four times, compelling us to pay $4.50 per day for stone cutters.

As regards this contract of 1868, we refer the reader to Barr & Moser, the architects, by whose books it will be seen, taking the aggregate amount of the several bids of our competitors for the contracts, that we accepted it at a figure, $7,000, lower than that of any bidder who competed with us, and on their contract we lost the sum of $5,000.

In 1869 the contract for the main building and the west wing was to be let. I was called upon by the Board of Managers and asked if I would continue the old contract prices and build the portions mentioned at the same rates. After my former experience, I certainly refused to do the work at that price. Subsequently Sheriff Fleming, who was a member of the Board at that time, called on me and asked me to put in a bid as he was going to get several others to put in bids. I consented and sent in the following prices: For rubble work $4.00; rock-faced work $1.00, drove, molded and rubbed work $1.70, and cell flaging corridor floors 80c. At this time stone cutters were only working eight hours per day, and getting $4.25 therefor. Again was our bid the lowest and we we were given the work.

In 1870, the south and west walls were ordered to be built, and for this we bid for the rubble work at $3 85 for perch, the water table at $1 25 per foot, and the copingon the wall at $4 50 per lineal foot, (equal to $1.00 per superficial foot), and in the coping we also drilled the holes for the iron railings.

This brings us down to the last contract, that of 1871. In regard to this the Board passed a resolution notifying certain parties who had bid on work before to bid again, (the work to be done was the completion of the wall on the north and east sides) I was one of the parties ordered to be notified, but such notification never reached me through an official source. Nevertheless we put in our bid at these prices; rubble work $3.50 per foot, water table $1 and coping $3, and again we were declared the lowest and best bidders.

"Figures don't lie," and I have given them plainly, and refer to all who know to prove their correctness.

After the spring of 1869 the Workhouse Board owed Forrester & Megraw $20,000, which they did not get for several months, and on which they received no interest. In 1870 the Board owed us $33,000, which we waited for about half a year without interest, and up to April 1871, there was due us from forty-five to fifty thousand dollars, on which we never received any interest, and to-day there is coming to the firm $20,000.

The question has been asked how that last $100,000 was "frittered" away. It is very easily answered. That $100,000 was very nearly all owed the contractors for iron work, brick work, &c., &c., including a portion to ourselves, long before it was received. When money was short the Board of Managers asked the several contractors to continue their work and wait until the Appropriation Bill passed, which they did, hurrying the work along as fast as possible, and the consequence is that a few days more will see the house completed and all of it ready for occupancy, nor do I think that a better building of the kind exists in the United States. What I have stated are all plain facts, and I am always willing and ready to tell anything more, that I know, in connection with the building of the Workhouse.

In conclusion we would state that we have fulfilled our contracts carefully and faithfully, nor have we recieved one penny that we have not honestly earned.

Respectfully, JOHN MEGRAW.

Millions of living witnesses bear testimony to the wonderful cures effected by the use of the California Herb Bitters. They are not a nauseous, vile, cheap compound, made from sour ale, bitter aloes refuse, rum or poisonous liquors, sold under the cloak of temperance, that causes death and ruin to the patient, but a true medicine, manufactured from pure juices or vital principle of herbs, roots, barks, flowers, &c., embracing twenty-one species, found growing on the golden mountains of California, parts of South America and India, all possessing remarkable curative virtues, combined with pure Monongahela rye, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable to the palate, and is offered to all people, of whatever kingdom, land, name, nation or color, as the best preparation ever discovered for the cure of dyspepsia, loss of appetite, weakness, indigestion, liver complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, flux, cramp, biliousness, headache, cholera, cholera morbus, chills, fever and ague, affections of the bladder and kidneys, pains in the back and loins, and eruptive diseases, such as scofula, tumors, pimples, &c., arising from impurities of the blood. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Dr. Wm. B. Johnston, of Boston, writes: Your California Herb Bitters have been used successfully to my own personal knowledge in cases of scrofula and skin diseases, in fact cases that learned physicians had given up as hopeless.

Rev. John Miller (formerly of this city) writes: I conscientiously believe your bitters to be the best preparation as a family medicine now before the public. In cases of dysentery, diarrhoea and weakness I find them highly beneficial.

John M. Thompson, Philadelphia, writes: Having resided for some time in a malarious district of Mississippi, I contracted the disease of fever and ague. I tried many physicians and remedies, without receiving one particle of benefit. I concluded to give your bitters a trial, hearing them so favorably spoken of. After using five bottles, I can say I am again restored to health, for which please receive the thanks of a once-suffering invalid.

John M. Eisenburg, M. D., Louisville, Ky., writes: From my knowledge of the ingredients and preparation of the California Herb Bitters, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it one of the best medicines in the market.

John G. Clark, Nashville, Tennessee, writes: The gross of Bitters you sent me are near all sold. Find draft enclosed for ninety dollars, on receipt of which, please send me another gross. The people all say here who have tried the Bitters, that they are a sure cure for dyspepsia, fever and ague, and liver complaint. The few compositions that have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one for the time since introduced, has ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so well as the California Herb Bitters.

John Stark, Princeton, Illinois writes, I have been afflicted with Dyspepsia five years, where Physicians and all other remedies failed to effect a cure your California Herb Bitters restored me to my original health.

I will pay three thousand dollars to any one who will find among the testimonials which I publish in favor of the California Bitters one which is not genuine. G. W. FRAZIER.

J. McMillen, Pekin Jefferson, Co., Ohio, writes, the California Herb Bitters have cured me of a very severe case of liver complaint.

People are beginning to find out that the California Herb Bitters will effect cures just as represented.

John Harrison, Akron, Ohio, writes: I have been afflicted with that terrible disease, Dyspepsia, for nine years, have been under the treatment of two prominent physicians for three years, also tried many remedies to no avail. Your Bitters was brought to my notice. I have taken four bottles and am again restored to health.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities Yesterday.

Yesterday a man was arrested at the Union Depot by direction of a telegram received from the Chief of Police of Elizabeth, New Jersey, who charged him with stealing a lot of carpenter's tools at Elizabeth. The goods were not found in the prisoner's possession. The authorities of Elizabeth were notified of the arrest.

Fred Lent took away $6, the property of George Fox, and because George avers that the money was not lent to him. Lent was arrested and required by Justice Heisel to give bail for trial for larceny.

Tom Burke, for forcing his way into the domicil of a colored woman, in the Eleventh ward, and taking possession of her bed while he took a nap, was sent to the Work House for sixty days, yesterday, by Mayor Brush.

Samuel Wallace had two charges to prefer before Alderman Moreland yesterday.

He first made information against Peter Cain, charging him with assault and battery. He alleges that the accused struck him on the head with his fist, called him in effect the masculine offspring of a mature female of the canine race, and threatened to lick him.

He also charged John Power, John Martin and David McCartney with surety of the peace, alleging that they threatened to lick him, put a head on him and seriously injure his digestive apparatus. Warrants were issued in both cases.

George McCarthy insulted some ladies on Smithfield street, Thursday night and yesterday, was fined $30 by Mayor Brush.

Yesterday morning William Herdertricker, was sent to jail in default of bail to ensure his appearance at court for trial on a charge of stealing a one hundred dollar watch from Robert Laughlin. The watch had been left hanging in a vest pocket, in a cracker establishment on Liberty street. William when arrested confessed the theft.

Mrs. A. N. Leonard came before Alderman Thomas and preferred a charge of larceny by bailee against Mrs. Duncan. The prosecutrix alleges that while she was in jail a parasol belonging to her was confiscated and taken possession of by Mrs. Duncan, who refuses to return the same. Also that she (Mrs. Leonard) gave to Mrs. D. a $5 note for safe keeping during her imprisonment, one dollar of which has been returned, but the remaining $4 seems not to be forthcoming. The accused was arrested and held to bail for a hearing.

Kate Raney and Mollie McHenry, arrested on Thursday night for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, had a hearing yesterday morning. Kate received twenty and Mollie five days in the County Jail.

Alderman McMasters yesterday morning took the information of James Ward, a hotel keeper at Port Perry, charging Abram Moore, Wm. Herley and Michael Miller with disorderly conduct. It is alleged that the accused came to the prosecutor's house and demonstrated in the most unpleasant manner, chasing the inmates out and establishing a reign of terror. The Alderman issued his warrant.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGE STOWE.

The jury in the case of Albert C. Clark, indicted for obtaining goods under false pretenses, reported yesterday, this morning rendered a verdict of not guilty, but directed the defendant to pay the costs.

Robert Hare was next placed upon trial on an indictment for perjury on oath of William Fay. It appears that the defendant is a wagon and carriage maker. He having done some work for the prosecutor, presented his bill, which the latter refused to pay in full, but paid a part of it. Subsequently the defendant brought suit against Fay for the amount of the bill, and it is alleged that in the hearing in the case before Alderman Christ, the defendant in the case, Hare, swore falsely. Jury out.

How Others See Us.

The editor of the Cumberland News, who was with the recent excursion party, has the following kindly words to say regarding our city and people:

To a majority of our delegation this was the first visit to Pittsburgh, and without exception they were surprised to find it such a large, busy, bustling city. Pittsburgh had decided to receive her guests in a hearty manner, and most truly was that decision carried out. In every street, from house-tops and windows, floated flags and mottoes, and everywhere was seen smiling, hospitable people. "Welcome" floated with the flags—it shone in the countenance—it was extended by the hand, and was felt in the reception. Truly, a more considerate, pains-taking, earnest community never received and entertained guests more heartily and pleasantly than did the inhabitants of Pittsburgh on this occasion.

At about 10 o'clock A. M. on Tuesday the Pittsburgh City Council placed a very large number of carriages at the disposal of the visitors, and accompanied by some of the citizens as guides, a tour of the city was made. Iron foundries, machine shops, nail works, glass works and other manufacturing establishments were visited, and inspected as fully as the limited time would admit. Few, if any, of us had the least conception of the magnitude of these great works. We Cumberlanders think our rolling mill an immense work, and so it is, but here there are dozens of working establishments equally large, carried on by individual enterprise and capital. This is what makes Pittsburgh great. Her monied men do not exclusively invest their capital in stocks and bonds and mortgages, but they employ it in the manufacturing business, which not only benefits themselves, but thousands and thousands of skilled mechanics and laborers, and adds to the prosperity of the whole people. The manufacturing districts of Pittsburgh are smoky, dirty and dusty, and the buildings are dingy with soot; but the section of the city out from the reach of the countless smoke stacks, is beautiful indeed. Eastwardly, for miles, extend magnificent residences and ornamental grounds, far more numerous and beautiful than the suburbs of any other city in the Union, with perhaps one or two exceptions. The ride throughout the city was continued till about 4 o'clock P. M., and even then many places of note and many interesting things were not seen for want of time. After an excellent dinner, the visitors whiled away the time as suited their inclinations till the banquet hour at 9 o'clock. In my last letter I gave you a faint description of the banquet, and your readers must be content with that.

With to-day ends the reception here, and the visitors will return to their homes, carrying with them the liveliest recollections of the opening of the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore railroad, and the reception and entertainment so generously bestowed upon them by the great city of Pittsburgh.

A Good Advertising Medium.

The Taylor & Farley Organs have such a charm about them that wherever one of them goes, more are sure to follow. A few weeks ago one found its way into one of our flourishing cities on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and since then Messrs. Hamilton & Co. have received no less than six orders for them (by letter), the parties all uniting in pronouncing them superior to anything they have ever heard in the organ line. Messrs. Hamilton & Co. have followed out their original plan of making everybody their agents, by selling them an instrument that cannot fail to give satisfaction, and at such incredible low prices and easy terms that everybody talks about it to their neighbors, and of course their neighbors call to see for themselves, are suited exactly in our instrument, and in turn tell their neighbors, and the consequence is everybody buys a Taylor & Farley Organ. And why shouldn't they when they can save 20 per cent. and get a better instrument at

The "Diamond" No. 64 Diamond, Allegheny. Messrs. Lyles and Scroggins, proprietors, is the most complete shaving saloon in the city. A full corps of competent barbers, and all the modern appliances for the comfort of the patron makes it really a place at which tonsorial attention is a real luxury. Gentlemen call in at the Diamond to-day and tests its merits.

A Wonderful Catalogue.

The following is the list of the trophies and prisoners taken by the German troops in the chief engagements in the late war:—Weissenburg, 2 battalion colors, 1 cannon, 800 prisoners; Worth, 2 eagles, 34 cannon, 6 mitrailleuses, 4,000 prisoners; Mars la Tour, 2 eagles, 7 cannon, 2,900 prisoners; battles of Beaumont, and Sedan, 8 flags and eagles, 50 cannon, 20,000 prisoners. At the capitulation of Sedan all the remaining ensigns of Mac Mahon's army, 400 cannon and mitrailleuses, and 80,000 prisoners fell into the hands of the Germans. At the capitulation of Metz, 56 eagles, about 600 cannon and mitrailleuses, and 170,000 prisoners were taken, in the first battle of Orleans, 3 cannon; in the third battle of Orleans, 77 cannon; at Amiens, 3 flags, and 13 cannon; at St. Quentin, 12 cannon and 10,000 prisoners; in the seven days' battle of Le Mans, 3 flags, 19 cannon and 24,000 prisoners, at Belfort, 4 eagles, 37 cannon and 15,000. According to official accounts, without reckoning the capitulation of Paris, the report of which has not yet been published, the whole booty taken during the war amounted to 120 eagles, flags, and standards; 2,400 field-guns, more than 4,000 fortress-guns, 11,669 officers and 363,326 men were detained as prisoners of war in Germany, besides whom the garrison of Paris, 170,000 men, surrendered to the Germans, but were not brought to this country. It must also be remembered that 84,000 French soldiers were interred in Switzerland, and 6,000 in Belgium. In order to estimate the importance of these figures we may recall the fact that in the campaign of 1866, exclusive of the results of the capitulation of the Hanoverian army at Langensalva, 13 flags and standards, 208 guns, and about 49,000 prisoners were taken, while the entire booty made by the French army in the Italian campaign only amounted to 3 flags, 26 guns, and about 16,000 prisoners.—German Correspondent.

A Comparison.

The New York Times says: A paragraph was published in this column a few days ago in which it was stated that the late Commodore Tatnall's youngest son remained loyal to the flag of the country, although his three brothers and two brothers-in-law, as well as his father, traitorously went over to the rebels; and that when he was stationed in Savannah, Ga., in 1865, the bitterness felt toward him for his maintenance of the Union was such, that hosts of his old friends in his native city refused to recognise him. The Mobile Register quotes this paragraph, and comments upon it in the subjoined terms, which we submit without abridgement to Democrats and Republicans, North and South, without comment:

"That reminds us of another case that we have heard of, which happened a good many years ago. Judas Iscariot, Esq., was a citizen of Judea, one of the provinces of what was at that time 'the best Government in the world.' He was pay-master, too, and carried the bag. Pay-master Iscariot was 'loyal' at a time when eleven of his most intimate friends and associates 'went over' to a cause that was considered and officially pronounced seditious and 'traitorous.' Mr. Iscariot was suitably rewarded, but such was the "bitterness felt toward him,' that even some of the chief men among the supporters of the Government 'refused to recognize him' or to have anything to do with him, and the poor fellow actually went and hanged himself in despair. In fact such is the prejudice existing against certain species of 'loyalty' that few people have even yet ventured to vindicate the reputation of Mr. Iscariot. We commend the congenial task to the attention of the TIMES."

An Unpleasant Tenant.

Hattie M. Cole, aged ten years, says a Pennsylvania exchange, a daughter of Mr. John P. Cole, of Buckingham, Wayne county, Pa., is, and has been for a long time, troubled with a living creature in her stomach. What it is no one can tell for a certainty, but physicians in Owego where she was taken recently for treatment, thing there is no doubt of its being a snake. By putting the finger on the stomach, where the creature can be seen distinctly to lie, it quickly changes its position, and even when the finger is within an inch or so of the stomach it will as quickly move away. All these changes produce pain to the girl. She recently got hold of the creature with her hand in her throat, but had to let it go to save herself from strangling. Dr. McElwee, medical electrician, operated on the girl at Owego with his battery, and was obliged to desist, as it caused the snake to squirm and throw itself about so as to cause the subject the most intense agony.

AUCTION SALES.

Lot on the Park,
CORNER OF
WESTERN AND IRWIN AVENUES, AT AUCTION.

On MONDAY EVENING, July 10, at 8 o'clock, will be sold at A. Leggate's Real Estate and Stock Exchange, 159 Federal street, Allegheny, that fine lot on the south-west corner of Irwin and Western avenues, fronting 25 feet on Irwin and 198 feet on Western avenue, having a 20 feet alley in rear. The character of these two avenues is too well known to require commendation. The eligibility of the corner position for building purposes, dwelling or business, is worthy of special consideration. For some businesses—first-class family grocery, for instance—this position is unexcelled. The great depth of the lot will admit of two buildings. The first-class character of all the continuous buildings render this a most desirable site for a first-class dwelling-house. Special attention is directed to this sale, as such desirable lots fronting on the Park are now exceedingly scarce. Terms at sale.
